Yale Security Lock

Encloser Enhanced Window Security Lock

Yale, the well respected manufacturer of door locks and security products, has introduced the Encloser enhanced window security lock for outward opening casement windows. VBH stocks Encloser to fit most popular PVCu systems as a comprehensive range of striker plates is available. Please see VBH Striker List for current listing.

Encloser's strength lies in the fact that each locking point consists of two bi-directional mushrooms that close towards each other into both ends of a single mushroom bolt striker. This arrangement produces an extremely strong connection that helps Encloser to conform to the requirements of BS7950 and, consequently, gain its Secured By Design licence. The 250mm works in a slightly different way in that the two mushrooms each lock outwards into its own striker plate.

The other huge benefit of Encloser is that it is a single component that is as quick and easy to fit as a standard espagnolette but its security levels match those of a shootbolt.

Encloser is available in 7 lengths to fit sashes from 270 – 1400mm

Benefits at a glance:

- Secured By Design licensed product
- Conforms to requirements of BS7950
- As quick to fit as an espagnolette but as secure as a shootbolt
- Covers large sash rebate range; 270 – 1400mm
